Geography Colloquium Series, Winter 2020

Each colloquium will be held Tuesdays, 12:30 to 1:45 pm in Room 229 of the Department of Geography, UBC. You’re invited for coffee and cookies 12:00 - 12:30 pm before the talk.

January 7th  Michele Koppes, Geography, UBC and Leonora King, Geography, KPU
Science of Landscapes and Landscapes of Science: A Feminist History of Geomorphology

January 28th  Amanda Giang
IRES and Department of Mechanical Engineering, UBC
Integrating Health, Well-being and Justice Into Energy Systems Planning and Policy

February 11th  Sara Nelson
Geography, UBC, TBA

February 25th  Verónica Vélez
Education and Social Justice, Western Washington University
Critical Race Spatial Analysis: Exploring New Possibilities for Mapping Racial (In)justice

March 10th  Navin Ramankutty
IRES, School of Public Policy and Global Affairs, UBC
Soft Paths for a Sustainable Food System

March 24th  Margaret Moss
School of Nursing, Director of the First Nations House of Learning, UBC
Place Matters re Indigenous Health

April 7th  Sarah Klassen
Anthropology, UBC
Using Geographic Systems Analyses to Understand Changing Land-use Patterns at the Medieval Complex of Angkor, Cambodia